DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 9,10,12,13,14 & 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mayer (DE 4204785) in view of Sasaki et al (JP 2004082948 A). Mayer discloses a flat air conditioning unit comprising: a flat heat exchanger (2) for cooling or heating, rear inlet opening, a fan (see figure 3), and air guide channel with a top and bottom surface extending towards a front portion. Mayer doesn't explicitly disclose a solar panel sell. Sasaki teaches a solar panel (22) at a top surface. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the disclosed invention with a solar panel to provide power source for fan and controls.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 15,17 & 18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Prosecution on the merits of this application is reopened on claims 9-17 & 19 considered unpatentable for the reasons indicated below: After reconsidering the prior art of record.
